

Dear Expectant Parent(s),

We want to first say how thankful and honored we are that you are taking the time to get to know us in efforts to help you decide if we are the right fit to be parents for your baby. We can only imagine how difficult this moment in time is for you and we want you to know just how strong and courageous we think you are.

Many difficult decisions are made every day but none as difficult as the one you are making. We recently were told by a mother that once you become a parent, your entire being pushes you to protect that child in any way shape or form. We believe that you are taking the steps to do just that. You have done one of the most difficult parts, bringing life to this baby and making the biggest decision of the baby's life.

We'll never be able to match your courage but we do promise to love, protect and provide for this child until our last breath here on earth. As a couple, we have dreamt of the day we would have a family of our own. Although it has been a difficult journey to get here, we believe that adoption will be the perfect and most beautiful way to grow our family. We have a lot of love to give and we can promise you that if you choose our family, your baby will grow up in a home that is filled with love, laughter, understanding, forgiveness, encouragement and support.

In this journey, we are not alone. We have a large close knit family that would be there for your baby as well if we were fortunate enough to be selected as parents for your child. This sweet bundle of joy would grow up surrounded by grandparents, aunts, uncles and many cousins. They would experience regular weekly family reunions where all of our family gets together to love and encourage one another. Your baby would start their journey in life with a very strong foundation of what it means to be family.

None of us ever stand alone. As you are not alone in wanting to love and protect this baby. There is a saying that "it takes a village to raise a child" and we would be honored to be a part of your village. We are excited for the possibility to meet you and have you get to know us.

With Much Love and Respect,

Enrique & Trischa
