

Dear expectant parents,

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter. We are Laura & Ryan. We may not know your circumstances or exactly how you're feeling. But, we want you to know that you are loved, supported, and we have been praying for you daily. You are beautiful and it takes courage, love, and maturity to pursue this path. We have so much love to give to the world and want to share it with your child.

If we are chosen to partner with you on this journey, know that your child will grow to understand that because of your courage and bravery, we were able to become a family. Every birthday will be celebrated, and every milestone won't go unnoticed because life is too precious not to share these special moments. We will always think of you as we cherish these occasions.

We promise to provide your child with love, protection, education, and a loving family to share their life with. We will allow them to be themselves and discover their many talents that God has given them. Thank you for the consideration to love and nurture your child. We will continue to pray for peace and comfort throughout your journey.

All our love,
Laura & Ryan
